OP Day Program update

For the safety and care of the people we serve and our community, and in response to Governor Tim Walz's most recent order, we are keeping our on-site day programs closed for now. While we certainly look forward to welcoming everyone back eventually, the COVID-19 crisis makes it impossible for us to re-open on March 30 as we had hoped. We will keep you informed as things change; updates are also posted to the OP website.

Business customers: Please note that our essential production operations are still open, and we are actively working to meet your packaging needs, safely and effectively.

Many of you have asked how you can help.

With our day programs comprising 60 percent of OP's annual revenue, our continued closure could be financially devastating to OP and organizations like ours.

There are two ways you can help us now:

- Please make a donation today.
- Urge legislators to include people with disabilities & mental health issues in COVID-19 Emergency Relief Funding! Visit ARRM, go to Advocacy, then Take Action!
